Genealogy & Local History—Monday, June 25 at 6:30PM

This month's speaker is Terrence Lindell, Professor of History at Wartburg College. He will speak on "Bremer County and the First World War." We are currently in the centennial of World War I, so the topic is timely.

If you are interested in genealogy & local history, join us from 6:30-7:30PM on the fourth Monday of every month. Come for the speaker and stay for the discussion. Share your successes and difficulties with others in your search of the past. Refreshments will be served.

The Great American Read!

On May 22, PBS began an eight-part series to explore and celebrate the power of reading with 100 of America's best-loved novels as chosen in a national survey. Readers are encouraged to tell how these stories have affected their lives and vote to choose America's best-loved book.

The Sumner Public Library has lists available of the 100 best-loved novels and has gathered the books into a display for easy browsing. Information on how you can be a part of The Great American Read is available on the PBS website, the library's Facebook page and website.

Be a part of The Great American Read and have your voice heard by voting for your favorite and post what makes your favorite special on our Facebook page.
